Icebreakers and Conversation Starters

Why did the Summer Reading Committee choose this book?

If I had a farm, I would grow/raise_____.

Novella Carpenter's farm in the city was_____.

How would you feel if someone moved in next door and started a farm with midnight dumpster runs and smelly animals?

Questions that open up discussion beyond simple reader response:

What impt qualities must an urban farmer have?

Beyond purely physical energy and strength, what are the most impt resources for starting an urban farm?

What important impacts did the farm have on others?
